BIOGRAPHICAL SUMMARY

Cherise Long has over 8 years of Human Resources and management, employee benefits, customer service, training, team building, performance management, labor relations, benefits administration, FMLA, experience within education and healthcare settings.

Cherise developed an interest into the field of healthcare HR while pursuing her undergraduate degree in Buffalo. Prior to joining Jefferson, she relocated from Buffalo to begin her career at the University of Pennsylvania in the Department of Medicine. In this role, her responsibilities grew to include research administration specific to basic science, translational research, and clinical trials using investigational devices, pricing/budgeting responsibilities, funding projections and assisting with grant submissions.

Throughout her career, Cherise has held various HR positions that have introduced her to the fundamentals of compliance, quality assurance, standards of care along with administration functions like staffing and general management. She continued expanding her knowledge and skills by adding organizational development, staff recruitment and onboarding along with providing Regional Level HR support for 12 skilled nursing facilities.

In her spare time, Cherise enjoys traveling and running.
