BIOGRAPHICAL SUMMARY

Kristin Kelleher has had over 8 years in Human Resources, with experience in employee relations, recruiting, talent management, learning and development, performance management, employee engagement, and reorganizations.

Before joining Jefferson in November 2016, Kristin was an HR Business Partner at Drexel University. In this role, she provided designated HR support and managed all employee relations issues for both administrative offices and schools/colleges. She provided policy and procedural support, organizational change and worked with administrators to design development and recruitment initiatives. She developed a volunteer process and guidelines, launched formalized Talent Management for a client group, implemented strategies to increase employee engagement and satisfaction, designed legal interview trainings, and facilitated programs as part of the Supervisory Certificate Program.

Prior to Drexel, Kristin worked in Human Resources at Almac Clinical Services in recruitment and at Wawa Inc. for an HR rotation, which helped identify her interests and passions in the field.

Her drive and versatility have continued to help her develop strong strategic relationships the employees she supports at every level. She believes in transparency, effective communication, and strives to offer the best customer service possible.

In her spare time, Kristin enjoys spending time with family, traveling to new cities and countries, and attending sports events.
