BIOGRAPHICAL SUMMARY

Misty McCloskey has over 15 years of Human Resources experience in Recruiting, Benefits and Generalist roles in both Corporate and Academic environments.

Before joining Jefferson in June 2016, she was an HR Business Partner at Drexel University where she supported a mix of Administrative offices and Colleges/Schools within the University. Focusing on employee relations, she provided high level customer service to her clients and offered coaching to employees and managers through a variety of situations. Misty supported several departments through reorganizations and helped to create a formal HR process for departmental reorganizations.

Prior to working at Drexel University, Misty was a Senior HR Manager at Aramark in the Higher Ed line of business. In this role, Misty also focused on employee relations and coaching. While at Aramark, the Higher Ed HR Department moved to a service center model and she handled employee relations cases from numerous locations across the United States.

Misty believes in building strong working relationships with employees at all levels of an organization in order to truly partner with her clients. Understanding the needs, mission and values of the business are essential in providing HR services and she strives to consider all of these elements when making decisions.

In her spare time Misty is usually planning her next trip. Her goal is visit two new places each year, one in the U.S. and one outside of the U.S.
